Outpost Has Strategic Significance in Turbulent Middle East

A HUGE INVESTMENT
Represents Important Phase
in State and Air Dep't
Co-operation

This is the fifth and last in a series of exclusive articles describing the importance of the fabulously rich oilfields leased by American capital in Saudi Arabia. In this article, I. N. S. correspondent Lee Van Atta describes the most distant outpost of U. S. military strength abroad.

DHAHRAN, Saudi Arabia, Sept. 12

(INS)—Dhahran is the end of the line—the most distant outpost in the world today where the American flag flies over a United States military installation.

For here, in the scorching midst of desert wastelands, is the four million dollar terminus of the U. S. Air Transport Command; a terminus which has far-reaching political and strategic significance in the turbulent happenings of the post-war Middle East.

Even with the speed of modern aircraft, Dhahran is a lonely base in the desolation of an arena of loneliness. New York is 45 flying hours away to the west; by the eastern air routes it is nearly 70 hours.

Few places in the world, with the possible exception of Russia, are so thoroughly inaccessible. And yet, the Dhahran investment represents an important phase in state and air department co-operation for the presence of the American flag in this confused and menacing pattern of the Middle East is a solemn warning and a forceful deterrent to aggressive action on the part of any other nation.

The field exists for what, on the surface, appears to be three major reasons:

1. The maintenance of an aerial "lifeline" into India and the Far East through the European-Middle East route.

2. Tangible evidence of American support of King Ibn Saud's political policies and close support of American oil developments in Saudi Arabia.

3. Aerial entrance to Iran for members of the secret, but nevertheless well-known "mission" to Teheran. That mission, headed by Gen. H. Norman Schwarzkopf, former head of the New Jersey State Police, is considered one of the most vital U. S. advisory groups abroad.

There has been some Congressional criticism at home of the Dhahran operation. The officers and men I talked with here are the first to testify their appreciation of the full strategic impact represented by the presence of American troops in this potentially explosive sector of the world.

Nearly every man is a veteran of some war theater and all who are here are volunteers; it's that kind of an assignment. Lt. Col. Dale E. Seeds, of Seattle, the unit commander, has headed a number of American air bases in the Middle East. He was particularly chosen for the Dhahran job because of his knowledge of the area and his ability to deal with the Arabians on a semi-political as well as military basis.

His executive officer is Captain Harry Burke, of Wilmington, Del., a 28-month veteran of New Guinea, who—like all the others here—has

Eagle Scout Tells The
Rotarians of Trip Abroad

Charles Holderreid, Eagle Boy Scout from Croydon, who recently returned from the World Scout Jamboree in France, was the guest speaker at the meeting of the Rotary Club yesterday afternoon in the Eiks' Home when he spoke on experiences encountered on the trip.

Holderreid, whose trip was made possible by a committee of the Bristol Chamber of Commerce, was gone approximately six weeks from the time he embarked at New York until his return to this country.

He pointed out that the American contingent of scouts, numbering over 1,000, did a splendid job of spreading good will while on the Jamboree. Over 30,000 scouts from most parts of the world were at the encampment.

On arrival overseas the Americans spent four days in Belgium and one day in Holland. A three-day stay in Paris, while famous spots of the city were visited, was one of the highlights of the trip.

Many interesting observations were made by Holderreid on conditions he observed in the sections he visited. One of the important activities at the Jamboree was the "swapping" of various articles carried by the American scouts for items from the scouts of other countries.

Guests were present at the meeting from New York, Philadelphia, and Bensalem. President E. Keller Fox presided.

A SUMMARY OF THE NEWS

Warning came from the President's Committee on Foreign Aid that this country would have to choose between voluntary meat rationing or controls on the use of wheat if hungry Europe was to be helped. Some supervision to safeguard our own economy was said to be necessary during the Marshall plan. The CIO steelworkers' union said steel production must be raised to prevent depression.

Leaders of the 16-nation European Conference on the Marshall plan began to scale down estimates of their needs to meet American criticism. The International Bank and Monetary Fund must act to avert the disaster threatening Europe, British Chancellor of the Exchequer Dalton said; the Food and Agriculture Organization named a new world food council.

KINDERGARTEN TO BE
ON NON-PROFIT BASISGroup of Cornwells Mothers
Organize the Co-operative Classes

TO OPEN SEPT. 22ND

CORNWELLS HEIGHTS, Sept. 12—A group of Cornwells Heights mothers announced today the organization of a non-profit kindergarten group to be known as the Bensalem Cooperative Kindergarten. Mrs. Stanley VanSant, William street, and Mrs. William E. Ervin, Cloverbrook avenue and Bristol pike, organizers of the new group, state that it is hoped that the first classes will be held on Monday, September 22nd.

It is planned that modern methods in supervised play will be conducted daily from nine a. m. until 12 noon in the recreation room of the fire station of Cornwells Fire Company, No. 1, Cornwells avenue.

The spokesmen for the group further announced that facilities of the cooperative kindergarten will be made available to any child from four to six years of age, not only from Cornwells but from any of the nearby communities. To take care of expenses relative to conduct of the kindergarten it will be necessary to charge a small weekly fee. Temporarily, kindergarten activities will be directed by Mrs. Stanley VanSant, who prior to her marriage taught at schools in Pitman and Riverside, N. J.; Mauch Chunk, as well as at the Bensalem township high school. Mrs. VanSant received her education at Ursinus College, Collegeville, and took graduate courses at the University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia, as well as at Columbia University, New York, N. Y.

Mrs. Ruth Ervin, who will handle registration of children, asks that all interested parents of children in this age group take their children to Cornwells Fire Company, No. 1, on September 19, between the hours of 9 and 11 a. m.

ST. ANN'S ELEVEN WILL OPEN SEASON
UNDER LIGHTS, TOMORROW NIGHT,
AGAINST ST. JOE'S, OF BEVERLY

The thud of a fullback's toe against an inflated pigskin will usher in the Bristol 1947 football season tomorrow night on the Bristol high school field. It will mark the earliest date that any football season has started here. The opposing teams for the first light classic are St. Joe's, of Beverly, and St. Ann's A. A.

The "Saints" will also christen their newly-purchased plastic gold-colored helmets, the latest in football paraphernalia. They have gold-colored jerseys with purple numbers and all-purple pants. Their stockings will also bear the colors of the St. Ann's organization.

Coach "Mike" DeRisi has a squad of 40 players and, of these, 19 were members of the team last season. Coach DeRisi has spent almost a month with his squad and feels confident of registering his first win of the season.

From the practice scrimmages that have been held, it appears that the following are slated for starting berths: Ends, Joe Denny and Tony Caione; tackles, Al Pizulo and John Quattrochi; guards, Tom Proffy and Bob Calone; backs, "Nate" Chichiletti, "Vince" Feole, "Sal" Pappaterra, and Stan Lelinski; center, Joe Conti.

DeRisi has a fine array of other backs in Leo "Lefty" Fiorelli, former Bristol High star; "Mickey" Stradling, who played with Morris-

WORKERS TO GATHER
FOR SCOUT "KICK-OFF"Dr. Philip A. Boyer, Phila., County Pres't, to Speak
At Campaign Start

PLAN FUND DRIVE

Dr. Philip A. Boyer, president of the Philadelphia Council of the Boy Scouts and director of the Educational Research in the Board of Education, will be speaker at the "kick-off" meeting of the Bucks County Council, Boy Scouts of America Finance Campaign, which will be held at Camp Ockanickon on Monday evening, when workers from all parts of Bucks County will come together for the purpose of opening the campaign for 6200 "Friends of Scouting" who are supporting the work of the Council for the next year.

F. P. Kemmerer, president of the Council, will preside with Gilbert H. Gendall and Hon. Thomas B. Stockham as co-chairman of the campaign. Solicitations in the various districts will be done by a group of several hundred men and women who each year at this time assist the work of the Bucks County Council in this way. The progress of the Council is closely allied to the success of the financial efforts. Because of successful campaigns in past years many thousands of boys have had the opportunity of being Scouts and Cub Scouts who would not have been able to take part in the many activities of Scouting without the proper administration, the supervision and camping facilities which are provided throughout the year.

The appeal is one which is made at the same time each year and which thousands of people of the council look forward to participating in their share and appreciate the work which is done. An opportunity is given for all citizens of Bucks County to contribute to this cause, either through one of the campaign workers or by sending contributions directly to the Council Office at the Keller Building in Doylestown.

The past year has been most successful in the council in service to the greatest number of boys and leaders who comprise the membership of the Boy Scout Movement. The Five Year Program is progressing in a way that will give many additional boys an opportunity to take part in the work of Scouting.

PITTING GERMANY TO WORK
Despite French objections and, of course, against the wishes of Russia, the American and British military governments have decided to make greater use of Germany's industrial resources. It is a sensible step and the only way that the rehabilitation of Europe can ever be accomplished. It is amazing that something was not done about it long ago.
Under the revised program the Anglo-American military zones will be permitted to produce up to 10-700,000 tons of steel annually. This is virtually double the ceiling which had been set for all Germany under the four-power agreement. Nobody needs to have explained to him how substantial a contribution will thus be made to the economic recovery of a continent that badly needs modern machinery and the many other things which can be fashioned out of steel.

The new arrangement does give German industry a tremendous lift and, if controls were lacking, could make the Reich in time the same old war factory which already has caused the world so much woe. This possibility was the basis of French opposition to the plan.
But there need be no fears for the future. Production and distribution will be under the direction of two military governments which have proved time and again that they are hard-boiled and able to keep the situation from getting out of hand. The main point to be considered is that at last Europe's natural resources are to be fully utilized for the benefit of Europe.

TOO FAST FOR THE RACE
Army Air Force jet airplanes are so fast that they may be barred from closed-course competition. That is the recommendation of an AAF observer at the recent air races in Cleveland, and headquarters would be wise to accept it.
The observed pointed out that when making turns on a closed course, jet pilots were subjected to a force 12 times that of gravity, while six to nine times is usually sufficient to cause them to "black out."

And already the speeds of military aircraft have forced tacticians to change their World War II fighter doctrine, because maneuverability is sacrificed when planes operate at close to the velocity of sound.

The armed forces must continue efforts to achieve increased speeds in the air, but tests should be carried out in isolated areas and under optimum conditions, so that spectators will not be endangered, and all possible measures may be taken for pilot safety.

Indeed, with the present facilities for research and test, it is a question whether air races, with their frequent casualties, have not degenerated into the category of a Roman holiday.

With planes soon to be traveling faster than sound, there will be little object in entering them in air races viewed by the public. It would be difficult for an observer to see what was going on.

"I wish to make it clear that the Bensalem Cooperative Kindergarten will be a purely non-profit venture. I hope that public response to the idea will be such that proceeds from the nominal weekly charge made for each registered child will be sufficient to engage a professionally trained kindergarten instructor. However, in the meantime, I feel that Mrs. VanSant is admirably qualified to supervise classes which will be conducted at the outset of our project by volunteer workers," Mrs. Ervin stated.

When questioned with regard to the eligibility of children from sections somewhat removed from Cornwells Heights, Mrs. Ervin further said: "We will welcome any children in the 4-6 age group, regardless of their residential location. Although we will be unable to provide transportation to and from the kindergarten, we will see that children who are put on public buses and sent to the school will be met at buses in the morning and safely conducted to the buses at noontime. We are making arrangements with the Neibauer Bus Company to assure us that children placed on buses by parents will be directed to leave buses at the correct stop where a volunteer will be on hand to escort them to the kindergarten room."
For further information relative to this new project Mrs. Ervin has announced that she will gladly answer all inquiries and may be contacted by telephoning Cornwells 6519.

ALVARY BAPTISTS BEAT PRESBYTERIANS

Calvary Baptist got the "jump" in the final playoff series for the title of the Lower Bucks Church softball League when they outslugged the Presbyterians by a 14-10 score at the Bristol Park Field last night.

Johnny Jones, who hurled for Presbyterian, and Jack Spencer, Alvary's moundsman, were both hit early by the opposition. However, aggressive defensive play on the part of both clubs, kept their pitchers in trouble constantly.

Presbyterian got away to a one-run lead in the opening stanza when Lucky Walters beat out a hit, was sacrificed to second and scored on Charlie Fischer's single. But Alvary came right back to tie up at 1-1 when, with one out, Harry Enry singled, stole second, moved to third on an infield out and scored on Chart Tomlinson's hit.

Calvary also scored a tally in the second when Getz beat out an infield hit, moved around to third, from where he counted on an infield out. Thus the score stood at 2-1 until the fifth inning when the pitching duel ended. Calvary rallied for five runs in the fifth to take a 7-1 lead.

Presbyterian was not washed up by any means. They came back strong with four runs in the sixth to make it 7-5. Then after holding Alvary scoreless in the sixth, they jumped out in front for the first time in the 7th by equalling Calvary's five-run rally in the fifth.

His gave Presbyterian a 10-7 advantage which stood only until Calvary batted in the last of the seventh during which frame they pushed over seven runs to bring the totals up to the final run-making figures, 14-10. Presbyterian went down scoreless in the eighth, after which the game was called because of darkness.

Calvary was paced to its victory by Harry Enry, who had a perfect-for-five night at the plate, scored five times, and drove in three runs to account for better than half the winners' total of runs.

The second of the best-of-three games series will be played tonight in the Bristol Park Field, with the third and final tilt, if necessary, to be played at the same place on Saturday morning.

Score by innings:
Presbyterian . . . 1 0 0 0 4 5 0—10
Calvary . . . 1 1 0 0 5 0 7 x—14
Winning pitcher, Spencer; losing pitcher, Jones.

Winning Ball Teams To See Athletics Play

The two winning teams of the Bristol Boys' Baseball League, sponsored by the State Y. M. C. A., will be the guests of the Philadelphia Athletics tomorrow when the Athletics play the Chicago Cubs.

Approximately 30 boys, together with five adult leaders, will make the trip, leaving from the Memorial Park playground at 12 noon. All boys are asked to meet there at that time.

This trip will climax a very successful season for the Boys' League. Twelve teams with 144 different players competed for high honors, with the Fleetwing Jrs. winning in the Midget section, and the combination first and second ward team holding first place honors in the Junior section.

The trip will be supervised by Telford Eppley, district executive for State Y. M. C. A., together with James Sweetney, "Ted" Downing and Leo Johnson.

TWO TEAMS PROTEST SOFTBALL GAMES

Two of the three games originally scheduled for tonight in the Bristol Area Softball Tournament have been postponed because of protests submitted to the Board of Arbitration Committee of the Tournament on games played last night and on Wednesday night, involving two teams scheduled to play tonight.

One of the two teams, Hunter-Wilson, has filed a protest on their game with Calvary which Calvary won, 3-2, on Wednesday evening; while the other was filed by the Jefferson Athletic Club against Rohm & Haas Lab. team of their game played last night which Rohm & Haas won, 6-2.

The Jefferson Athletic Club claims umpire Morris Carter misinterpreted the rules when he called a J. A. C. baserunner out for interference when he ran into Leone, Rohm & Haas third baseman, while attempting to field a ball in the seventh inning of their contest.

In the other case involving Hunter-Wilson and Calvary, the Hunter-Wilson management requests a review of the entire game because of incompetent umpiring, but specifically on two points:

1—In the sixth inning, with the score tied at 2-2, Calvary had two men hit by a pitched ball, which, under the Official 1947 Softball Rules (under which the tournament is being played, with a few exceptions), permits the batter to become a baserunner.

However, under this rule, the batter must make some effort to avoid the pitch and he must not have struck at the ball. And it is upon these points that Hunter-Wilson claims their first point of protest.

2—Their second point of protest occurred in the third inning when George Getz, batting for Calvary, attempted a bunt, on a high ball, which Umpire Gourza declared a ball on the ground that the ball was not in the strike zone. This, Hunter-Wilson claims, is a clear misinterpretation of the rules governing this particular decision.

The Board of Arbitration which includes Jim Katz, director; Lou Tomlinson, assistant; with the following also listed—Vince DiTanna, Francis "Hystie" Grimes and Dave Ludwig, with Ezio Zanni, alternate, will meet at the Penn Auto Store, 227 Mill street, this evening at 9:15, to rule on the two protests submitted.

All umpires, team managers and captains, or representatives involved in games played under protest are urged to be present at this important meeting tonight.

St. Ann's Eleven To Open Season Tomorrow Night

Tony Romano. The latter three are getting their first taste of independent football.

Joe Conti and Andy Feher are the only two players for the center position. Feher was understudy to "Jim" Rue last season and is expected to take over in an alternating game with Conti. Coach DeRisi is anticipating breaking in another player to aid this pair.

The "Saints" have eight men reporting for end posts. "Goops" Mangiaracina, who caught many passes last season, is back as is "Lou" Pizzullo, and Howard Keyes, in addition to the starting ends named. Pizzullo, the smallest player on the squad, is one of the gamest and excelled in several contests last season. Other endmen are "Lou" Angelo and "Pat" Stefanoni.

DeRisi is being aided in his coaching duties by Joe "Chick" Ciarella, star lineman for several seasons before the war. "Chick" will also be in uniform and ready to step in for action. Coach DeRisi also expects to have "Vince" DeBronze, former star of Morrisville High.

Beverly had a fine season last year and will come here as the underdog because of the fine record compiled by the Purple and Gold last season when they lost but one game. The Jersey team lost two tilts last year and most of their players come from South Jersey schools.

St. Ann's has withdrawn from the Northeast Football Conference.

They captured the western section of this league last season and were beaten out in the semi-finals by Bridesburg.

Running an independent schedule, St. Ann's intends to schedule most of the outstanding teams in the conference. Business managers Louis Nicolls and Leon Ciarella have already contacted Holmesburg, Tacony, Olney "Vets" and Bridesburg, and most of these teams will come in night games as it is the St. Ann's intention of playing night games during the months of September and October.

Next week, the "Saints" are booked to play the O'Donnells, of Trenton. This club, beaten 6-0 by Dover, Delaware, last week, is coached by Gene DeRisi, brother of "Mike."

St. Ann's have a game booked on October 12th at Baltimore with the U. S. Marines.

The Sunday home games of the Wood street organization will be played on Leedom's field.

Folks in Norway Village Benefit by Bucks Gifts

DOYLESTOWN, Sept. 12—Bucks County Sopotimists have received a letter from a school teacher in Norway, who has explained how she and her pupils shared the "hands-across-the-sea" packages prepared by the Bucks county clubwomen.

President Katharine S. Keane, Newtown, read the letter from Norway. The packages contained clothing, thread, toothpaste and brushes and other articles difficult to obtain in that northern country.

The teacher is a member of the Sopotimist Club in her native village.

Mrs. Joseph R. Kenny was named publicity chairman, she succeeding Miss Adelaide Dietrich.

A number of members will attend the fall conference of the North Atlantic Regional area to be held at Atlantic City, N. J., October 11th and 12th.

Sportsmen's Briefs

By JOE ELBERSON

Bristol's biggest annual outdoor sportsmen's event... the annual outing of the Bristol Fish & Game Protective Association is scheduled to get underway at noon this Sunday for what promises to be even a bigger affair than last year when an estimated 350 persons were on hand.

According to the committees working on arrangements there will be literally "fun for the whole family." Games and special events for the kiddies, extra special events for the ladies, plus numerous events for the men, will make up the program on the 14th.

Flycasting events, accuracy plug casting events, surfcasting contests, dead-mark events, archery contests, and pistol and rifle matches will be included. Appropriate prizes will be awarded the winners in each event.

One of the special features of the afternoon will be the first of a series of four trap shooting matches, to be shot over the Bristol traps, Bristol, Edgely, Tru-Sport and Newtown will be represented. All bona-fide members of any of the four clubs are eligible to shoot. The ten highest scores turned in by members of each club will count toward the grand prize and trophy. High single man will also be awarded an individual trophy at the conclusion of the four matches. Trophies will be presented through the courtesy of the Penn Auto and Sport Store, 227 Mill street, Jim Katz, manager of the store, will shoot under the Bristol colors.

The committees promise that the grounds will be in excellent condition, with mowing and trimming to be completed by Saturday afternoon. A new 22 point small bore target range has been completed for the rifle and pistol matches.

Refreshments will be on hand at the club house. To get to the grounds follow Bath Road to Silver Lake. The events will be held on the grounds directly west of the Lake.

Release dates... at the meeting of the Bristol Fish & Game Protective Association, held Tuesday evening, the club decided to release its share of the pheasants raised in conjunction with the Edgely Club, according to the following schedule: All cock birds will be liberated on Sunday, October 5. All hen birds will be released on Sunday, November 30th. At the present moment there are 216 birds in the pens.

Strongly opposed... the Pennsylvania Game Commission's action, taken on July 9, which would eliminate the bounty on red foxes in Bucks and Montgomery counties after September 16, was protested at the September 8th meeting of the Bucks County Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs by every delegate from the 16 clubs represented at the meeting.

A resolution was adopted, copies of which will be sent to the Game Commission, and other officials, protesting this action on the part of the Commission. Growing scarcity of small game, plus the fact that the fox population is still on the increase, particularly in Bucks County, was the reason the Commission's action was opposed.

The Federation will continue its fight to have the antlerless deer season on December 13th, prohibited in Bucks County. The Commission has declared a Statewide season on antlerless deer on Dec. 13th, and the Federation is opposed to this season for the county of Bucks.

THREE TEAMS OUT OF TOURNAMENT

The first elimination from competition in the Bristol area softball tournament for the local championship was affected as three clubs, losers for the second straight time, saw their fond aspirations for the title blantly blacked out by their opponents in last night's skirmishes.

The three clubs whose hopes went down the drain of defeat were the Church of Our Saviour, the No. 1 Fire Company, and the Jefferson Athletic Club. And the three teams which put the "coupe de tat" on the eliminated combinations were the 5th Ward Sporting Club, the 5th Ward Ramblers, and the Robm & Haas Lab. The Sporting Club beat the Church of Our Saviour, 10-6, the Ramblers nipped the Fire Company, 4-3, and the Lab boys at Robm and Haas upset the J. A. C. club, 6-2.

Vince Cordisco pitched the Ramblers to victory over the Fire Company although the winning run crossed the plate on a dropped fly ball in right field in the sixth inning, which gave the Ramblers their final tally and a 4-1 lead at that time. But the firemen came back with a fast rally which netted two markers in the 7th. But the rally was "nipped-in-the-bud."

Chick Stanski, who hurled a two-hitter against Bristol Methodist in the opening round, but lost, 2-1, in nine innings, fared somewhat better last night as his club got him some runs and he thereby kept the Lab boys chances alive.

Last night Stanski had only 15 strike outs as compared to 21 in the Methodist game. He also gave up 3 hits last night as compared to 2 hits previously. Of the 3 hits J. A. C. got, two were scratch blows.

Robm & Haas Lab scored in trios, counting 3 in the third, and three in the 5th inning, while the J. A. C. club counted once in the first and again in the fifth. The Lab boys got 8 hits off the delivery of Cipullo and Nassi, who divided the hurling chores for the losers.

Jefferson protested the game claiming umpire Morris Carter was in error for calling their man out in the last inning for running into Leone, Robm & Haas third baseman, as he was fielding a ball.

Church of Our Saviour, who never had much of a chance in their game with the 5th Ward Sporting Club, fell easy prey to the Sporting Club who got off to a good start and kept going to score the first shutout in the tournament, a 10-0 victory over the Churchmen.

The Shirt with the "Locked-In" Lustre!

Jayson WHITEHALL
IMPORTED EGYPTIAN COTTON $3.95

Made of imported Egyptian cotton, here's the first exciting shirt news in years. This Jayson fabric has a Natural deep-seated sheen. Each laundering brings out that rich lustre anew.

Feel the luxurious wealth of this shirt fabric. It's soft, smoothly full bodied, with a rich quality that makes it an unusual shirt value at this price. And here's a happy surprise. The long-staple Egyptian cotton makes Whitehall 60% stronger than other shirts* at the same and higher prices. That means it wears much longer. Come in and see Jayson's Whitehall, in wanted collar styles.
